

McCLURE'S ALLEGED PICTURE OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LEADER

Photograph of Mrs. Chevallier of Texas
Advertised as Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy.

THE PORTRAIT DISCREDITED.

Sworn Statements to Prove That Magazine Picture Is Not a Likeness of Mrs. Eddy.

Boston, Dec. 4, 1906.
Alfred Farlow, General Manager of the Christian Science Magazine, today gave out the following statement:

"McClure's Magazine, in the December issue, published a picture which is represented as a photograph of Mrs. Eddy taken in 1882. It is not a picture of Mrs. Eddy, but is a likeness of Mrs. Sarah C. Chevallier, who formerly lived in Boston, and who died in California two years ago. This fact is incontrovertibly established by the affidavit of Mrs. Chevallier's son, which appears in this article. We have in our possession the picture of Mrs. Chevallier, which we have just received from her son and which is an exact duplicate of the one used by McClure's."

"In connection with this portrait, McClure's publishes an editorial announcement of a story relating to the Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. It is stated that as a result of a careful investigation their story is probably as near absolute accuracy as history ever gets. Indeed the introduction in question lays great stress upon the accuracy of its proposed history. Again it is said: 'Practically no assistance can be obtained from Christian Scientists themselves, that she (Mrs. Eddy) refuses to be consulted personally on the main facts of her own life.' It should be stated that according to the custom, McClure's representative who applied to Mrs. Eddy for an interview, was referred to the Committee on Publication, who is specially appointed for the purpose of rendering any assistance in his power to the representatives of the public press who may be gathering data on the subject of Christian Science and its leader."

"In a conversation with members of McClure's staff, several months ago, I informed them that if they would submit their data to me I would be pleased to assist them in their verification, giving them as my reason that there were documents in circulation and rumors abroad which were not genuine. They have not availed themselves of my offer."

GENUINE PICTURE OF MRS. EDDY TAKEN IN 1880.

No. 2.
AFFIDAVIT OF PHOTOGRAPHER WHO TOOK MRS. EDDY'S PICTURE IN 1886.

The picture of Mrs. Eddy marked No. 2 which is published in this article, was made by me on April 9th, 1886. It is a true photograph of Mrs. Eddy. The picture which appears in McClure's Magazine of December, and which is represented as having been taken from a photograph of Mrs. Eddy taken in 1882 is not a likeness of Mrs. Eddy, and could not possibly have been a photograph of her. (Signed) H. G. SMITH.
Subscribed and sworn to this 27th day of November, A. D. 1906.
Before me,
(Signed) MARTHA W. MACY,
Special Commissioner.

Affidavit of Chas. F. Chevallier, son of the Woman Whose Picture Was Represented to the Public by McClure's Magazine as a Photograph of Mrs. Eddy.

Marshall, Texas, November 27, 1906.
Mr. Alfred T. Barlow, Boston, Mass.
Dear Sir:—The photograph enclosed herewith, taken by the Niman Photographic Company, 3 Park street, and 154 Bolyton street, Boston, Massachusetts, is a portrait of my mother, Mrs. Sarah C. Chevallier. By comparison anyone can easily see that the portrait published on page 10 of McClure's Magazine for December, 1906, is the picture of my mother, and to the best of my knowledge and belief is an exact copy of the photograph enclosed. (Signed) CHAS. F. CHEVALLIER.

Before me, Marion Turney, a notary public in and for Harrison County, Texas, on this day personally appeared Charles F. Chevallier to me well known to be the person whose name is subscribed to the foregoing letter, who, after being duly sworn by me, on oath, says that the statements made in the foregoing letter are true, and that the photograph herein enclosed is a portrait of his mother, Mrs. Sarah C. Chevallier.
Given under my hand and seal of office this November 27, 1906.
(Signed) MARION TURNEY,
Notary Public in and for Harrison County, Texas.

Affidavit of Mrs. Janet T. Coleman, C. S. D.

Says Positively McClure's Picture Not a Likeness of Mrs. Eddy.

I studied with Mrs. Eddy in January, 1882. The picture of Mrs. Eddy in sitting posture with book in hand was taken by W. Shaw Warren, in 1882 or 1883, or previously. It is an exact likeness of Mrs. Eddy. The picture which appears in McClure's Magazine of December, and which is represented as having been taken from a photograph of Mrs. Eddy taken in 1882 is not a likeness of Mrs. Eddy.

MRS. JANET T. COLEMAN, C. S. D.
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this November 30, 1906.
(Signed) JOHN H. APPLETON,
Notary Public.

Affidavit of Miss Julia S. Bartlett.

Mrs. Eddy's Hair Not Gray in the Year 1882.

I studied Christian Science with the late Mary Baker G. Eddy in 1882. The picture of her in a sitting posture with a book in her hand was taken by Mr. W. Shaw Warren in 1882 or 1883. It was a true likeness of Mrs. Eddy as she appeared when I first knew her, in 1882, and many years thereafter. The picture published by McClure's and represented by the editor of that magazine as having been taken from a photograph of Mrs. Eddy made in 1882 is not a picture of Mrs. Eddy and does not represent her in any way. It appears to have gray hair. In 1882, and for many years thereafter, Mrs. Eddy's hair was a natural brown.
(Signed) JULIA S. BARTLETT.
Then personally appeared the above named Julia S. Bartlett and made oath that the foregoing statement by her subscribed is true. Before me,

HE KNOWS THE JAP

A. R. Priest, Dean of University of Washington, Is Here.

Says That Race Prejudice Is Confined to California.

JAPANESE ALL RIGHT.

Received into All Schools in State of Washington.

Principal Trouble Is the Age of Japanese Pupils.

That the Jap is not the nuisance he is painted, is the verdict of Arthur R. Priest, dean of the college of liberal arts, University of Washington.

Dean Priest is making a short visit with his sister, Mrs. C. M. Lawrence, of 1601 Topeka avenue, and leaves tonight for his home in Washington, D. C., for a visit. In an interview today he stated that the Japanese who came to the western coast states for the purpose of acquiring an education, were, as a rule, peaceable, gentlemanly young men, who did not force themselves upon the Americans socially or otherwise.

As Dean Priest is in a position to know what he is talking about, he throws a new light on the "scare heads" about the "Japanese Peril."

The race arguments and disturbances of California, said Dean Priest, "have not affected the northwest. No conflict of feeling on the subject of foreign school attendance has reached Oregon or Washington, where we have a greater per cent of Japanese than they have in California. And, in truth, you hear more about the race troubles here than do we residents of the adjoining states. There may be some strong race prejudice in California, but it is not so strong as the stories would indicate."

When asked about his experience with Japanese scholars, he said: "In Washington the Japanese attend both the grade and high schools with white children, and no trouble is experienced. We have six or eight Japanese students in the state university at present, and have had one or more in every graduating class for a number of years. There is one in the engineering class of this year. I have observed that these Japanese students take part in all active debating societies, or literary work, but so far as I am concerned, they have done nothing in athletics. They cling rather to the features which they will aid in acquiring the sought-for American education."

"We have a large percentage of Japanese labor on the ranches and roads, and the only racial feeling I ever saw was six years ago when Jim Hill displaced white men on the section work with Japanese laborers. Some feeling was shown at that time, but no violence."

"Japanese boys and girls form a large per cent of the domestic help, and among these house servants are graduates of the higher schools and even the college of Japan, and occupy superior positions of servitude in their own country, but take this method of acquiring the language. They yearn to speak English, and are anxious to object to them than the compensation they receive."

"I have employed them in my own household, and found them quiet, gentlemanly and superior in many ways to the average run of house servants. In particular I would mention a young Japanese, probably 25 years of age, who is now in my employ. He graduated from the high school this year, and intends to enter the university. I have seen him a gentleman of exceptional integrity, intelligence and high moral character. I believe the racial trouble in the California schools is the result of the fact that a majority of these students are highly educated in their own country, upon coming into the American land they begin to feel at the bottom—the second or third grade, and the mingling of grown men and little tots of seven or eight years."

He observed that these Japanese who sit in class with little children, go on about their business at play time, and never attempt to mingle with their American classmates in any way.

"The Japanese recognize this unfortunate feature, and I believe that a majority of them would be in favor of separate schools were it not for the advantage derived from contact with the English language. On my way out here, I met an intelligent Japanese on the train. He was on his way to Germany to take a course in the higher arts, having graduated from a noted college in the west. He said he wished there was some more effective way for the Japanese to acquire an education in the country, and deplored the racial ill feeling."

Mr. Priest's visit to Topeka is a brief one. He arrived Wednesday and leaves tonight.

TELL OKLAHOMA HOW.

F. D. Coburn Invited to Address Constitutional Convention.

An invitation has been extended to F. D. Coburn, secretary of the Kansas Agricultural board, to address the Oklahoma Constitutional convention upon the subject of "Constitutional Enactments That Will Protect and Build Up the Agricultural Interests of Our State."

This invitation comes from the chairman of the committee on agriculture of the convention at the request of his committee.

Mr. Coburn has not decided as yet whether he will be able to accept the invitation. He would have to be "multitudinous" to accept all the invitations extended to him to make addresses at one thing or another.

MEAD OPPOSES IT.

Governor of Washington Doesn't Like Roosevelt's Idea.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 5.—Governor Albert Mead has come out in emphatic language as being opposed to the president's recommendation that a measure be passed specifically providing for the naturalization of the Japanese.

"Naturalization of the Japanese," said Mead, "would tend to degrade the American workman. We can not extend our citizenship rights to one Asiatic country without doing the same to the other. I have great admiration for the president, but I believe he is wrong in this matter."

dent, and Mrs. E. W. Hoch, wife of Governor Hoch, second vice president. Since Mrs. McCarter, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Hoch were brought out in charges of officers nobody would consent to run against them, and their unanimous election has been generally conceded.

The other officers to be elected this afternoon are secretary, treasurer, auditor and three members of the committee on resolutions.

For these offices are Miss Maud Bishop, the present incumbent, and Mrs. W. F. Bowen for secretary; Miss Emma Wallace and Mrs. Fred Faroworth for treasurer; Mrs. A. S. Slog and Mrs. C. R. Kitchell for auditor.

This will be Mrs. McCarter's second administration as president of the federation. She was the second president of the federation succeeding Mrs. J. E. Hudson, who was elected to the office two years ago.

Nine names were submitted for the nominating committee, the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes to compose the new committee. The candidates are Mrs. Eugene A. Ware, Mrs. H. C. Garvey, Mrs. D. A. Mulvaney, Mrs. A. L. Greene, Mrs. E. W. Poindester, Mrs. J. D. McFarland, Mrs. J. B. Sims, Mrs. D. C. Tilton and Miss Lucy Kingman.

Other women were endorsed for office by individual clubs but refused to accept nominations.

The meeting was given over entirely to the election, the reports of retiring officers and heads of committees, and addresses by the new officers. Mrs. McCarter made a strong talk against child labor, speaking for the Clio club which aroused by Edwin Markham's article in the current Cosmopolitan on Child Labor at Christmas Time, offered a resolution against it which was unanimously adopted by the federation.

Mrs. Klingenberg urged the federation to do something for the Crittenton home, the many urgent needs of which she presented in an eloquent and convincing appeal. There were vocal numbers.

Miss Hazel Marie Kaiser and Miss Lucile Makare and Mrs. Chas. F. Sponer gave a brief memorial of the late Mrs. Mary Tenny Gray, of Kansas City, Kan., who was the first president of the Kansas State Federation.

AUBREY CASE COMPROMISED.

AsTa Fe Agrees to Put in New Bridges at Syracuse.

When the board of railroad commissioners met yesterday at Syracuse for the purpose of holding a hearing on the complaint of the Aubrey Canal company against the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company that the latter's road bed was obstructing an important irrigation ditch, there was little or nothing for the members of the board to do for the officials of the railroad company and the canal company had got together and effected a compromise whereby the railroad company agreed to do about all that the canal company desired.

It seems that the Santa Fe track crosses the ditches of the canal company in two places. In one of those the track and bridge is not high enough to permit a proper flow of water through the ditch. In the other place an embankment of the roadbed interferes with the flow of water. The railroad company has agreed to elevate its track and put in a larger bridge and also to excavate the offending embankment. This work will cost the railroad company about $4,000.

DINNERS IN BASKETS.

This Is the Christmas Planned for the Poor by Salvation Army.

Ensign E. F. Omann, of the Salvation Army, is preparing for a big Christmas celebration for the poor of the city at the army barracks, 119 West Fifth street. The dinner, which in the past has been a feature of the holidays with the Salvation Army will be done away with this year and in its place 75 baskets will be prepared and they will be taken directly to the homes of the deserving poor of the city. Each basket will contain a peck of potatoes and apples, one chicken, half a pound of butter, one pound of sugar, a quarter of a pound of tea, one can of vegetables, a loaf of bread and a copy of the latest issue of the War Cry.

In the past the dinners have been participated in by some who are not considered deserving by the officers of the army and it is with the intention of placing the dinners where they are the most needed that caused the present plan to be adopted. Three hundred appetizing dinners will be sent out in the city and it is hoped that the responses will be such that the greater portion of the cost of the dinner may be met in this way.

Donations of all kinds are asked by the army, these to be delivered at 412 Clay street or word left at the dollars dress so that they may be called for by

It not only gladdens the heart of the individual recipient but is a great and lasting pleasure to the entire family from Baby to Grandma.

A talking machine is not an article to be selected in a few minutes. It takes time to choose your records and hear the various makes of machines. For this reason we urge the advisability of making your selection now when our stock is large and unbroken. There is bound to be a scarcity of Talking Machines and Records and the unusually early buying shows that the people are alive to the situation. Don't put it off a single day.

We have just received a nice shipment of the famous BERT WILLIAMS records "LET IT ALONE," "HERE IT COMES AGAIN" and "NOBODY." The demand for the WILLIAMS records has been so great it has been impossible to fill half the orders. They won't last long.
